The St. George's Society of Toronto

Honorary Patron: The Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario

President William Motley-Bailey extends an invitation for you to participate in our Sapphire Jubilee Tea on Sept. 9th at the Fairmont Royal York.

This is one of the events the Society is sponsoring to raise funds for the Invictus Games (games for disabled veterans) to be held Sept. 23rd to 30th in Toronto.

From the Invictus website - Why Canada?

Hosting the Games in Canada in 2017, the year the country celebrates the 150th anniversary of its Confederation, will provide a unique opportunity for Canadians to commemorate and honour its ill, wounded and injured soldiers, and their families.

Canadians have a powerful feeling of empathy for soldiers, veterans and their families. They recognize that service members experience a wide range of physical and psychological challenges when serving and after they have left the military. The empathy, however, is often latent; there is little opportunity to show support for active duty and veteran service members and their families as the military experience, for most Canadians, is far removed from their day-to-day existence. When Canadians are reminded of the sacrifice of its military members—often as a result of tragedy, such as the death of a soldier—they respond with an outpouring of support.

The Invictus Games Toronto 2017 will provide an opportunity to awaken the latent empathy that Canadians feel for its military and transform it by empowering the Canadian public, politicians and corporations to solicit long-term advocacy, donations and support for the country's service members and military families in need

Your participation in the celebration of the Queen's 65th year as our Monarch will assist in our sponsorship of the Games.
